DESCRIPTION

- Find a piece of visual art -- a painting, a photograph, an illustration -- and describe it. Don't focus on creating a story first; simply translate what you see into words! If you're having trouble with where to start or end, or how to continue, try looking at the visual art from top to bottom, or from left to right, and go from that direction.

This is just an exercise to get you started with strengthening your skill in description. What you decide to create and describe in your own fiction story is completely up to you.
